Thoughts for the Quiet Hour

The season is again with, as that our thoughts naturally turn to the birthday of our King. The world had been long looking for the coming of the promised Messiah. In song and story had the prophecies been given. We may well imagine the effect of the announcement of his birth! To some it means intense gladness; but to the majority is really meant nothing, except, perhaps, fear. The good tidings of great joy were not yet understood; honce, could not be appreciated. However, the time would come when its full significance would be realized.

The Christmas season this year comes in a time of intense uncertainty. The entire world today is rearbed in mourning apparel. Sorrow and suffering are to be seen everywhere. Not only in the countries of Europe, but in our one subvert land the wall of distress is being heard. Under these unfavorable and unusual conditions the Christmas season this year should have a deeper spiritual significance to the world than ever before, and especially to those who are professing disciples of the Christ.

The richest and sweetest joys experienced in human hearts were born into the world with Jesus. Before his coming men knew little and cared less of the real nature of God. Their ideas of Him were surreal, hazy, indistinct. They had little conception of God's love. But with the Incarnation He showed to the world the depth of His love for mankind, in His unspeakable Gift! "God so loved that He gave!"

While men realized in a way, before the coming of Jesus, that they were brothers, the idea of world-wide brotherhood was not dreamed of until His advent. His teachings emphasized the three great lessons of liberty, equality and fraternity. As a direct result of this, witness the splendid work that is being done today by the Red Cross, Y. M. C. A. and all other organizations that are being used to help others. The brotherhood of man is being taught today as never before in the world's

The birth of Jesus also brought joy into human hearts by exalting the kindler graces, meekness, gentleness, forbearance, forgiveness, pur-ity, love. Listen to his words: "Blessed are the meek, the merciful, the pure in heart." Before His coming, might was deemed to exist in mere maked force, not in gentleness. Power was placed before purity; intellect before heart; strength of will before strength of affection. Oh, how different itis teaching.

A King is born! Not one that should rule over empires; but in human hearts. Thou shalt call His name Jesus, for He shall save His people from their sin. A King is born that shall also be to the world a Savior! Because of His birth we live in better homes, wear better clothes, cat better food, live better lives, and, best of all, have the blessed hope of life eternal!

Friend, this is the one season of all the year when the real Christ spirit should prevail. It should be a holy time, as well as a holiday. Let the season be enjoyed. Let the home be bright and cheerful; but, above all, let the heavenly glow of a Christ-like feeling shine in our hearts, so that the world we see we have the spirit of the great Savlor, who loves us and who gave His life for us! WE ARE glad that so many of our savings depositors have the "Saturday night habit." Every Saturday night we see the same faces at our savings windows, with a steady increase in new ones.

For the wage-earner whose money seems to "burn a hole in his pocket," Saturday evening open hours should be a strong inducement to start and maintain a savings account.
